RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

At The Recent Highland County Anti-Saloon Convention.

The following resolutions were un-animously authorized by the High-land County Anti-Saloon Convention in session in Hillsboro, Ohio, Decem-ber 28, 1904:

Whereas, In the seventy-sixth Gen-eral Assembly of Ohio our representa-tives, Senator James C. Carson and Representative W. H. Burnett voted in favor of the home against the saloon, therefore,

Resolved, That we do hereby express our gratitude to those men for this stand and assure them that we heart-ily support them in the position man-ifested by their vote on the Brannock Local Option Bill.

Resolved, Further that we most heartily endorse the Ohio Anti-Saloon League in its work of eliminating the saloon and its supporters from our Commonwealth. That we do most earnestly urge the people of Highland county, whether in townships or cor-porations, to seek the help of this or-ganization whenever Local Option or Law enforcement campaigns are un-der-taken.

Whereas, The will of the people as expressed through their Representa-tives in the 76th General Assembly in the passage of the Brannock Local Option Law by an overwhelming ma-jority was overruled by the unwarranted interference of Governor Herrick under the threat of vetoing it, there-fore, greatly injuring the effectiveness of the measure,

Be it Resolved, That we citizens of Highland county assembled in this Anti-Saloon Convention, enter a most emphatic protest against his re-nomi-nation.

Father—What did the teacher say when he heard you swear?
Small Boy—She asked me where I learned it.

Father—What did you tell her?
Boy—I didn't want to give you away, pa, so I blamed it on the parrot.

I'll brave the stones of Chilcot Pass, I'll cross the plains of frozen glass, I'd leave my wife and cross the sea, Rather than be without Rocky Moun-tain Tea.

KAUFMANN & BAER.

"How do you manage to save up money for Christmas gifts?"
"I arrange for the plumber and the coal dealer to draw up my salary on alternate weeks. Then I work at night, and what I get is all mine."

She—You think you are the salt of the earth, don't you?
He—I know blame well you're the mustard!

The prayers delivered in the United States senate during the winter session of 1904 are to be published in book form. The chaplain could have saved himself the labor of their oral delivery by having them printed first and pointing to them like the lazy man in the old story and saying "Lord, them's my sentiments!"

At Pittsburg the police have been instructed to arrest all school boys caught smoking cigarettes. Good! Now if they'll only get after their big brothers who do the same thing—but that's too good to imagine!

Jessie—Miss Oldgirl tells me that she never looks under her bed before retiring.

Bessie—No, poor thing—she's given up all hope of ever finding a man there.

Miss Nooney—You didn't know I was interested in the business now, did you?

Miss Belting—Why, yes; I supposed you were, as usual; but I didn't know whose.
